CRF80F

The CRF80F is a great choice: Small enough for younger riders, but packed with big-bike features like a five-speed transmission and a manual clutch.

CRF80F It can be tough to choose the right dirtbike for your youngster when you're looking at Honda's lineup—they all seem like great choices. But the CRF80F occupies a special position: it's the smallest of our dirtbikes with a conventional, handlebar-mounted clutch and five-speed transmission. That makes it the perfect bike for learning proper shifting technique. The four-stroke engine's powerband has plenty of torque, another big help when a rider is learning clutch use. And because it's a Honda, it offers all the durability and reliability you need in a bike designed for teaching—and fun!
